DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-6 and 14, drawn to a photovoltaic cell.

Group II, claim(s) 7-13 and 15-17, drawn to a method of manufacturing a photovoltaic cell.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical features between Groups I and II are forming a p-n junction on one or more regions of a solar cell material layer. This feature is known from US 5811348 (col. 3, line 63 through col. 4, line 15) as cited in the International Search Report dated 05/30/2003.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- Species A, which requires the recycling of the substrate layer (as shown in page 25, lines 3-9) (appears to be claims 7-9, 11 and 13);
- Species B, which does not require the recycling of the substrate layer (page 24, lines 4-27) (appears to be claims 10, 12 and 15-17).

Upon election of Species B, Applicant needs to elect one of the following patentably distinct sub-species:

- sub-species B₁, which requires simultaneous processing of the photovoltaic cells (page 25, line 11 to page 26, line 27) (appears to be claims 10 and 15-16); and
- sub-species B₂, which requires separate processing of the first and second photovoltaic cells (page 25, line 11 to page 26, line 27) (appears to be claims 12 and 17).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Species A requires the recycling the substrate layer whereas species B does not. In addition sub-species B₁ requires simultaneous processing of the photovoltaic cells where as sub-species B₂ requires separate processing of the first and second photovoltaic cells. The common technical features between the species and sub-species is bonding a PV cell layer to a substrate layer to define one or more regions of weak bonding and one ore more regions of strong bonding, which is known from US 5811348 in view of EP 938129, as cited in the International Search Report dated 05/30/2003.

5. A telephone call was made to Ralph Crispino on 12/10/2008 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
